

William Kristol

“American Politics in the Age of Trump”

PANEL DISCUSSION:

It certainly feels as if we’re politically in uncharted waters. Are we? What might the future hold for our two political parties, and for big policy questions at home and abroad?

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2017

1:00–2:30 PM • IMU ALUMNI HALL

PANELISTS: WILLIAM KRISTOL, editor-at-large of The Weekly Standard

PAUL HELMKE, Professor of Practice, School of Public & Environmental Affairs;
Director, Civic Leaders Center

MODERATOR: AURELIAN CRAIUTU, Professor of Political Science

William Kristol is the editor-at-large of The Weekly Standard, is a regular on ABC’s This Week and on ABC’s special events and election coverage, and appears frequently on other leading political commentary shows. Before starting the Weekly Standard in 1995, Mr. Kristol led the Project for the Republican Future, where he helped shape the strategy that produced the 1994 Republican congressional victory. Prior to that, Mr. Kristol served as chief of staff to Vice President Dan Quayle during the first Bush Administration, and to Education Secretary William Bennett under President Reagan. Before coming to Washington in 1985, Mr. Kristol was on the faculty of Harvard University’s Kennedy School of Government and the Department of Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania.

Sponsors: Tocqueville Program (with the generous help of the Ostrom Grant, Veritas Grant, Apgar Foundation Grant); Ostrom Workshop; Center for Representative Government; Office of the Provost

Presentations are open to the public. For questions, contact Allison Sturgeon (sturgeon@iu.edu; 812/855–3151).