Ostrom Workshop Expands Study of Governance in Outer Space

The Ostrom Workshop and partners at Laval University in Canada have received a $200,000 grant from the Carnegie Corp. of New York to expand their study of governance in space. The new grant builds on a previous $200,000 grant received in 2020 to work on the problem of space debris in Earth's orbit. Full news release.

IASC Food Commons Conference Update

Abstract Submission Deadline for Food Commons in Europe and Beyond Extended until September 29

This one-day virtual conference is unique in bringing interested people together that deal with food commons issues directly or who study food governance in a manner that provides room for the idea that food can be reframed and governed as a commons. Registration and abstract submissions are still open.

Anthony DeMattee Awarded Three APSA Dissertation Awards

The Indiana University Bloomington Department of Political Science and the Ostrom Workshop are very pleased to acknowledge Anthony DeMattee, one of our recent PhDs who is currently on a postdoctoral fellowship at Emory University that is sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Dr. DeMattee's dissertation recently earned three awards from the American Political Science Association, which is an incredible accomplishment (and quite possibly a record!). Dr. DeMattee's dissertation explores the regulation of nongovernmental "civil society organizations", in particular those related to human rights, with a special focus on the regions of the Caribbean and East Africa.
